When most of us think of the phrase "Saved by the Bell," we think of the early 90's NBC hit TV show. From the catchy theme song to the misadventures of the six main characters at Bayside High School, this show will always be a classic for many viewers. However, in Fort Bend County, the phrase "Saved by the Bell" has taken on a completely new meaning.

"Saved by the Bell" is a truancy reduction program created by the Fort Bend County Juvenile Probation Department in partnership with area schools. It provides support for students who regularly miss school to encourage them to get to class. The program started in 2008 with six Fort Bend County ISD schools and all Katy ISD schools under the jurisdiction of Judge Kenneth Cannata. It was then expanded in late 2011 and again in 2012.

The goal of this innovative program is to apply pro-active casework management strategies together with meaningful sanctions in order to address truancy issues and ultimately reduce delinquency. Of the 1742 students identified for the program since 2008, 86% have improved attendance rates.

Better attendance results in a decrease in suspensions and school write ups, and an increase in grade point averages for those students.

Juvenile probation officers act as liaisons for truant students for the purpose of coordinating and providing follow up with the judicial system, as well as working with school truancy officers, counselors and community resources to address the social factors behind trancies.

Since the program started in 2008, "Saved by the Bell" has served 1742 students in Fort Bend County school districts including Fort Bend ISD, Katy ISD, Lamar Consolidated ISD, and Needville ISD. The efforts of the program have decreased In-School Suspensions by 81%, decreased out of school suspension by 75% and increased grade point averages by 49% for those students involved.
