Juvenile Diversion Plan for Precinct 1 Justice Courts

I. Description

As provided by Chapter 45, subchapter E of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, and contingent on eligibility, a child shall be diverted from formal criminal prosecution through an established youth diversion program. Youth diversion is applicable for a child who is alleged to have engaged in conduct that constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by fine only, other than a traffic offense.¹ A child's participation in a youth diversion program is voluntary, requires the child to accept responsibility for the alleged conduct, and requires written consent from both the child and the parent in a written diversion agreement.

Tier Placement, Duration and Strategy Guide Appendix B establishes realistic and reasonable terms for a diversion action plan (DAP). Terms may include, but are not limited to, a combination of conditions such as community service, an educational program, counseling, letters of apology, and/or restitution. Monitoring of a child's compliance with the DAP is monitored by the Court's designated Youth Diversion Coordinator (YDC), the prosecutor, and the Judge. If the child satisfies all the requirements of his/her diversion agreement, there will be no further proceedings related to the case.

If the child withdraws or does not successfully complete the diversion agreement, the Judge will conduct a non-adversarial hearing to determine if the diversion was unsuccessful. If it is determined the diversion measures were unsuccessful, the charge may be filed for criminal prosecution, with the prosecutor's approval.

If it is determined that more time is necessary for a child to successfully complete diversion, a diversion contract can be extended and/or adjusted not to exceed 180 days.² The judge, however, may extend up to one year from the original start of the diversion after a non-adversarial hearing.³

II. Objective

The purpose of the youth diversion program and its related procedures are to:

- a. Reduce recidivism and the occurrence of problem behaviors through intervention without having to criminally adjudicate children in justice and municipal courts.
- b. Identify at-risk youth, including youth with mental health needs, substance use

¹ Texas Code of Criminal Procedure §45.302

² Texas Code of Criminal Procedure §45.309(a)

³ Texas Code of Criminal Procedure §45.309(b)

disorders, or intellectual and developmental disabilities and, where appropriate, make referral to early youth and intervention services under Subchapter D, Chapter 264 of the Family Code.

- c. Authorize diversions of children charged with certain offenses punishable by imposition of a fine from criminal adjudication that emphasize accountability and responsibility of the parent and the child for the child's conduct while also promoting community safety.
- d. Increase collaboration between governmental, educational, and non-profit organizations in devising local and regional diversion strategies within the community.

III. Eligibility (Article 45.3.04 Texas Code of Criminal Procedure)

A child may enter into a diversion agreement once every 365 days. After a child accepts responsibility for the charge alleging engagement in conduct that constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by fine only (other than a traffic offense), they must be diverted from formal criminal prosecution, unless:

- a. The child has previously had an unsuccessful diversion under Subchapter E;
- b. Entering into diversion is objected to by the prosecutor; or
- c. The child's parent does not provide written consent for the child to participate.

IV. Intermediate Diversion Evaluation, Intake, and Implementation

The prosecutor and YDC shall review citations issued for those under age 17 assigned to Justice Court. If the child is eligible for intermediate diversion, the prosecutor will notify the YDC of the recommended strategy tier (see Appendix B).

Once eligibility has been established, the YDC will notify the parent and child. If the parent and child agree in the child's participation, designated court personnel and/or the prosecutor shall meet with the parent and child to review the proposed diversion action plan (DAP), evaluate the parent-child relationship, consider parent input, or require the parent to participate in the case plan, if appropriate.

V. Diversion Agreement/ Diversion Action Plan

There shall be a written binding Diversion Agreement that contains the components required in Article 45.309 & 45.310 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. The objectives shall:

- a. consider the child's circumstances,
- b. be rationally relevant to the alleged conduct,
- c. be realistic to accomplish, and
- d. be in the best interest of the child and the community.

The written agreement shall contain the following components as required by law:

- a. An identification of the alleged conduct and diversion agreement terms in clear and concise language understandable to the child.
- b. Positive and negative consequences of successful completion of, or failure to comply with, the terms of the diversion agreement.

- c. An explanation that a guilty plea is not required, and that participation is not an admission of guilt.
- d. An explanation of the review and monitoring process for compliance with the diversion agreement.
- e. The agreed length of the DAP.
- f. Signatures of the child and parent indicating each's consent to diversion, with the understanding that diversion is optional. Notification that the child and/or the child's parent may terminate the diversion at any time, and acknowledgement that upon termination, the case will be referred to Court.

VI. Participation and Case Management

The Court's designated Youth Diversion Coordinator (YDC) and the prosecutor, will monitor the child's compliance throughout the child's participation in the diversion program, perform case management duties and provide administrative court support as needed. If the child satisfies all the requirements of his/her Diversion Agreement; there will be no further proceedings related to the case. If it is determined that more time is necessary for a child to successfully complete diversion, a diversion contract can be extended and/or adjusted. If the child withdraws or does not successfully complete the Diversion Agreement, the Justice Court will conduct a non-adversarial hearing to determine if the diversion was unsuccessful.

VII. Not Eligible for Diversion, Prosecutor Objection, Declined Participation by Child or Parent, or Unsuccessful Completion

If a child is not eligible for diversion, the prosecutor objects, or the child and/or parent decline participation, the case is filed with the Justice Court to proceed with formal prosecution.

If a child is not compliant with the diversion action plan (DAP), the case shall be set for a non-adversarial hearing before the Judge. The Judge will confer with all interested parties to determine what is in the best interest of the child, what protects the long-term safety of the community, and whether to:

- a. Declare the diversion unsuccessful, and/or
- b. Amend or set aside terms in the diversion agreement.
- c. Extend the diversion period not to exceed one year from the initial start date.
- d. Continue the hearing for not more than sixty (60) days to allow additional time for compliance with the terms of the agreement.
- e. Require the parent(s) to perform any act, or refrain from performing any act, which the Court determines will increase the likelihood the child will successfully complete the diversion and comply with any order of the Court that is reasonable and necessary for the welfare of the child.
- f. Find substantial compliance and successful completion.
- g. Refer the case to the prosecutor for filing.
- h. Transfer the case to the Juvenile Court for an alleged Child in Need of Supervision (CINS) under Section 51.08 of the Texas Family Code.

VIII. Judicial Diversion

If the child wants to contest the charges and/or if the parents do not give written consent for participation in the youth diversion program, the case will be referred to the prosecutor for filing of the case. The child will be set on a docket to determine if they would like to go to trial. If a verdict of guilt is returned, the presiding Judge will determine if the child is eligible for diversion. If the child is eligible as outlined in section III of this plan, the Judge may offer participation in the youth diversion program.

If the child and parent consent, the Youth Diversion Coordinator will proceed in working with the child and parent, utilizing the recommended tier level to determine referrals, programming, monitoring compliance and informing the Court of non-compliance. If the child or parent do not consent to the diversion program, the Judge will continue with the finding of guilt and proceed with sentencing (see Appendix C for Process Overview Flowchart).

IX. Expunction

All records of a diversion pertaining to a child under Subchapter E shall be expunged without the requirement of a motion or request on the child's 18th birthday.
