Psychology and Substance Abuse Services (SAS) Divisions

The Psychology and Substance Abuse Services (SAS) Divisions at the Fort Bend County Juvenile Probation Department focus on empowering youth and their families. Psychology and SAS staff are licensed mental health and chemical dependency professionals trained to provide individual, group, and family counseling services for youth and families who are involved with the Juvenile Justice System. The services include counseling, specialized treatment and rehabilitation, crisis intervention, substance abuse intervention, and forensic evaluation services. Psychology and SAS staff also provide consultation services for youth, families, probation officers, and court officials.

The Psychology and SAS Divisions receive referrals from juvenile probation officers and Honorable Judges. The intervention and rehabilitation services are provided during a youth's stay in detention, as a condition of release, and during supervised probation.

Psychology staff also provide Mental Health On-Call services for youth in the Fort Bend County Juvenile Detention Center, and the Psychology and SAS Divisions also serve as a professional training site for graduate students who are completing academic and field placement licensure requirements.

Psychology and Substance Abuse Services Programing

The Juvenile Justice Alternative Education Program (JJAEP) and the Juvenile Leadership Academy (JLA)

are two programs designed to maximize education and rehabilitation services for the youth in the juvenile justice system. Youth placed in the JJAEP (Arcola or Rosenberg sites) attend academic classes and receive specialized counseling services from Licensed Professional Counselors (LPC) and Licensed Chemical Dependency Counselors (LCDC).

Youth who are adjudicated into JLA are placed in a residential dorm, and he or she must earn the privilege of returning home on ankle monitor by demonstrating rule compliance and safe behavior. Youth in JLA attend school at a JJAEP site, and they also receive individual, group, and family counseling, as well as substance abuse intervention services.
